

New project!! We have all accomplished many things in life. Some of those accomplishments came easy, others came as the result of plain old hard work. At Pier 55 we are working on a project to capture a bit of the valuable wisdom members of our “senior” generation have learned along the way and share it with our next generation (s). Please join us in reflecting and sharing your responses to the following question.

We look forward to reading all of your advice!

Blank surveys can be found at Pier 55 and Annadee’s Thrift Store.

**Note: participation is open to all “seniors”, not exclusively Pier 55 members.*
